

King Chow | MD, FRCSC

Dr. King Chow completed an Honours Bachelor of Science Degree in Human Behavioural Sciences at the University of Toronto. His undergraduate and postgraduate medical training was completed at the Schulich School of Medicine at Western University in London, Ontario. He is a graduate of the Residency Program at Western University and underwent additional training at Bascom Palmer Eye Institute in Miami, Florida and at the Ivey Eye Institute in London, Ontario. His training also focused on medical and surgical management of ocular surface disease. Dr. Chow is a Royal College Certified Ophthalmologist and is regarded as an expert in ocular surface issues. His practice also includes glaucoma and comprehensive ophthalmology patients.